

You get coffers for your gold
And coffins when you're cold,
And a cough will take you off the doctors say,
But I think that I will have a Steaming cup of Java.
And a century more on earth I'm going to stay.

I'll wager that the author of that rhyme is a customer of Wm. R. Hoffmann and he wants to live another hundred years just to enjoy that delicious Java that has made Hoffman a noted character in San Antonio.
