

I. D. Sheplerd and Miss Lillian Meyer, demonstrators in many past San Antonio Express-Evening News cooking schools, are at their post in the H & H Coffee booth, presenting steaming cups of delicious H & H to all comers daily. The unvarying high quality of this product is due in large measure to the care exercised in its manufacture and the vacuum package in which it is sealed. Miss Harris comments upon the extra wrapping of dark green cellophane which science has discovered prevents deterioration from light as another quality feature of the H & H product.
